

Symposium on

SEXUAL SELECTION AND SEXUAL CONFLICT

Saturday 28 October 2006 09:30-17:00

At Okayama University 50th Anniversary Hall

Please note the title of some talks may change a little

David Hosken (Plenary Talk 1)

University of Exeter in Cornwall

Sexual Selection and Sexual Conflict: a Personal View

Takehiko Hayashi

National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology

Theoretical Models of Sexual Conflict: Evolution of Mate Choice by Sexual Conflict over Mating Rate

Tomohiro Harano

Okayama University

Experimental Evidence for Evolution of Polyandry in Callosobruchus chinensis

Yukio Yasui

Kagawa University

The Genetic Benefits of Female Multiple Mating

Patty Gowaty (Plenary Talk 2)

University of Georgia

Chance, Time, Sexual Selection and Sexual Conflict

Mariko Takahashi

The University of Tokyo

'Peacock's Tail' or Peacock's Call: Sexual Selection in Indian Peafowl (Pavo cristatus)

Mariko Hasegawa

The Graduate University for Advanced Studies

Conflict and Cooperation between The Two Sexes in Humans

Eiiti Kasuya

Kyushu University

Comments on Conflict and Selection

Organised by

Takahisa Miyatake

Okayama University